DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-2, 4-5, 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Komatsu et al. (U.S. 6,379,443).

Komatsu et al. disclose water-based ink jet ink comprising colored resin wherein the resin is polyvinylacetal and the colorant is dye. There is also disclosed a method wherein the colored resin is added to water to form an ink (col.2, lines 1-2 and col.7, lines 43-47, 57, and 60-61).

In light of the above, it is clear that Komatsu et al. anticipate the present claims.

3. Claims 1-2, 4-5, 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fujino et al. (U.S. 5,623,296).

Fujino et al. disclose water-based ink comprising colored thermoplastic resin wherein the resin is polyvinyl acetal and the colorant is dye. There is also disclosed a method wherein the colored resin is added to water to form an ink (col.11, lines 40-49 and 55-60, col.14, lines 16-17, col.15, lines 5-13, and col.17, lines 60-65).

In light of the above, it is clear that Fujino et al. anticipate the present claims.

4. Claims 1-3 and 6-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Palmer (U.S. 2002/0128348).

Palmer et al. disclose water-based ink comprising core-shell polymer wherein the core comprises binder such as polyvinyl butyral and the shell comprises dye. Palmer et al. also disclose several prior art core-shell structures wherein the core comprises both the dye and the binder. Palmer et al. also disclose a method wherein the core-shell particles are used in water-based ink jet ink as well as a method of making the core-shell structure wherein shell is formed on the core by polymerizing shell materials in the presence of the formed core (paragraphs 2, 4, 8, 22, 30, 40 (lines 1-3 and 3rd last line), 44 (line 1), and 45).

In light of the above, it is clear that Palmer et al. anticipate the present claims.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Derick et al. (U.S. 4,230,775) disclose ink comprising polyvinyl butyral and dye, however, the ink does not contain water as required in the present claims.

Nakamura et al. (U.S. 2003/0158291) disclose ink jet ink comprising colored particles comprising polyvinyl butyral and dye wherein the particles are composed of a single phase or core phase and shell phase. However, given the effective filing date, the reference is not applicable against the present claims under any subsection of 35 USC 102.
